

Scriptaculous II

- 1. Make a pushbutton and some text. When you press the pushbutton, highlight the text temporarily.
- 2. Extend #3 from the previous exercises so that the customer result is temporarily highlighted after it is displayed.
- 3. Make a few variations of #1 above so it tries some other effects instead of highlighting. These are very easy one-liners once you have #1 working.
- 4. Make an entry that displays the first and last names of the richest customer. When you click on the first name, it should be editable. Send the result to the server and update that customer's first name.
